other analytes (e.g., protein markers) in parallel with cfDNA may also enhance early detection.1

Ryan B. Corcoran, M.D., Ph.D.
Bruce A. Chabner, M.D.
Massachusetts General Hospital Cancer Center
Boston, MA
rbcorcoran@partners.org

Since publication of their article, Dr. Corcoran reports receiving consulting fees and holding equity in nRichDx. No further potential conflict of interest relevant to this letter was reported.

DOI: 10.1505/NEJMc1816154
Correspondence Copyright © 2019 Massachusetts Medical Society.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letters to the Editor are considered for publication, subject to editing and abridgment, provided they do not contain material that has been submitted or published elsewhere.

Letters accepted for publication will appear in print, on our website at NEJM.org, or both.

Please note the following:

• Letters in reference to a Journal article must not exceed 175 words (excluding references) and must be received within 3 weeks after publication of the article.
• Letters not related to a Journal article must not exceed 400 words.
• A letter can have no more than five references and one figure or table.
• A letter can be signed by no more than three authors.
• Financial associations or other possible conflicts of interest must be disclosed. Disclosures will be published with the letters. (For authors of Journal articles who are responding to letters, we will only publish new relevant relationships that have developed since publication of the article.)
• Include your full mailing address, telephone number, fax number, and email address with your letter.
• All letters must be submitted through our online submission system at NEJM.org.

Letters that do not adhere to these instructions will not be considered. We will notify you when we have made a decision about possible publication. Letters regarding a recent Journal article may be shared with the authors of that article. We are unable to provide prepublication proofs. Submission of a letter constitutes permission for the Massachusetts Medical Society, its licensees, and its assignees to use it in the Journal’s various print and electronic publications and in collections, revisions, and any other form or medium.

INTERRUCTIONS FOR LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letters to the Editor are considered for publication, subject to editing and abridgment, provided they do not contain material that has been submitted or published elsewhere.

Letters accepted for publication will appear in print, on our website at NEJM.org, or both.

Please note the following:

• Letters in reference to a Journal article must not exceed 175 words (excluding references) and must be received within 3 weeks after publication of the article.
• Letters not related to a Journal article must not exceed 400 words.
• A letter can have no more than five references and one figure or table.
• A letter can be signed by no more than three authors.
• Financial associations or other possible conflicts of interest must be disclosed. Disclosures will be published with the letters. (For authors of Journal articles who are responding to letters, we will only publish new relevant relationships that have developed since publication of the article.)
• Include your full mailing address, telephone number, fax number, and email address with your letter.
• All letters must be submitted through our online submission system at NEJM.org.

Letters that do not adhere to these instructions will not be considered. We will notify you when we have made a decision about possible publication. Letters regarding a recent Journal article may be shared with the authors of that article. We are unable to provide prepublication proofs. Submission of a letter constitutes permission for the Massachusetts Medical Society, its licensees, and its assignees to use it in the Journal’s various print and electronic publications and in collections, revisions, and any other form or medium.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letters to the Editor are considered for publication, subject to editing and abridgment, provided they do not contain material that has been submitted or published elsewhere.

Letters accepted for publication will appear in print, on our website at NEJM.org, or both.

Please note the following:

• Letters in reference to a Journal article must not exceed 175 words (excluding references) and must be received within 3 weeks after publication of the article.
• Letters not related to a Journal article must not exceed 400 words.
• A letter can have no more than five references and one figure or table.
• A letter can be signed by no more than three authors.
• Financial associations or other possible conflicts of interest must be disclosed. Disclosures will be published with the letters. (For authors of Journal articles who are responding to letters, we will only publish new relevant relationships that have developed since publication of the article.)
• Include your full mailing address, telephone number, fax number, and email address with your letter.
• All letters must be submitted through our online submission system at NEJM.org.

Letters that do not adhere to these instructions will not be considered. We will notify you when we have made a decision about possible publication. Letters regarding a recent Journal article may be shared with the authors of that article. We are unable to provide prepublication proofs. Submission of a letter constitutes permission for the Massachusetts Medical Society, its licensees, and its assignees to use it in the Journal’s various print and electronic publications and in collections, revisions, and any other form or medium.

INTERRUCTIONS FOR LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letters to the Editor are considered for publication, subject to editing and abridgment, provided they do not contain material that has been submitted or published elsewhere.

Letters accepted for publication will appear in print, on our website at NEJM.org, or both.

Please note the following:

• Letters in reference to a Journal article must not exceed 175 words (excluding references) and must be received within 3 weeks after publication of the article.
• Letters not related to a Journal article must not exceed 400 words.
• A letter can have no more than five references and one figure or table.
• A letter can be signed by no more than three authors.
• Financial associations or other possible conflicts of interest must be disclosed. Disclosures will be published with the letters. (For authors of Journal articles who are responding to letters, we will only publish new relevant relationships that have developed since publication of the article.)
• Include your full mailing address, telephone number, fax number, and email address with your letter.
• All letters must be submitted through our online submission system at NEJM.org.

Letters that do not adhere to these instructions will not be considered. We will notify you when we have made a decision about possible publication. Letters regarding a recent Journal article may be shared with the authors of that article. We are unable to provide prepublication proofs. Submission of a letter constitutes permission for the Massachusetts Medical Society, its licensees, and its assignees to use it in the Journal’s various print and electronic publications and in collections, revisions, and any other form or medium.

INTERRUCTIONS FOR LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letters to the Editor are considered for publication, subject to editing and abridgment, provided they do not contain material that has been submitted or published elsewhere.

Letters accepted for publication will appear in print, on our website at NEJM.org, or both.

Please note the following:

• Letters in reference to a Journal article must not exceed 175 words (excluding references) and must be received within 3 weeks after publication of the article.
• Letters not related to a Journal article must not exceed 400 words.
• A letter can have no more than five references and one figure or table.
• A letter can be signed by no more than three authors.
• Financial associations or other possible conflicts of interest must be disclosed. Disclosures will be published with the letters. (For authors of Journal articles who are responding to letters, we will only publish new relevant relationships that have developed since publication of the article.)
• Include your full mailing address, telephone number, fax number, and email address with your letter.
• All letters must be submitted through our online submission system at NEJM.org.

Letters that do not adhere to these instructions will not be considered. We will notify you when we have made a decision about possible publication. Letters regarding a recent Journal article may be shared with the authors of that article. We are unable to provide prepublication proofs. Submission of a letter constitutes permission for the Massachusetts Medical Society, its licensees, and its assignees to use it in the Journal’s various print and electronic publications and in collections, revisions, and any other form or medium.