There are so many things
in town.

Such as food, clothes,
transport and other things.

But there are other things that we don't know, such as the museum and police station.

"We want to go see the museum and police station",
said the learners.

We will ask our teacher to take us there to see the museum and police station. "Teacher, would you please take us to town so we can see the museum and police station?" the learners asked.

"Yes, I will arrange a taxi so that we can go to town", the teacher responded with a smile.

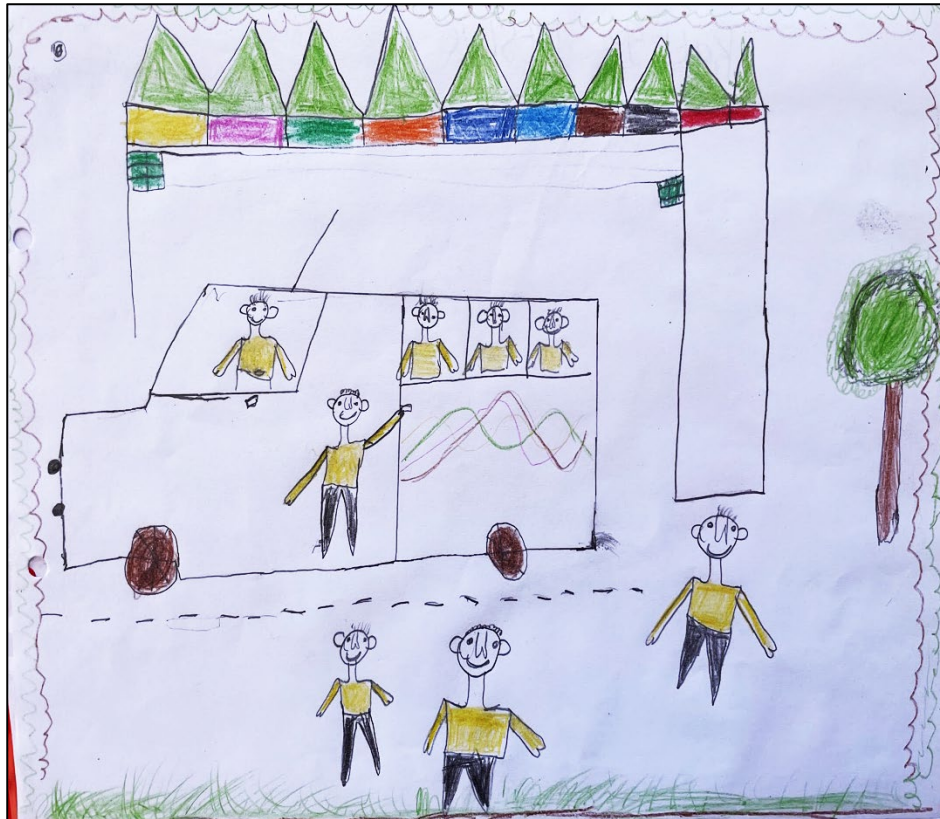

The day of the trip has arrived, and we are getting into the taxi, while singing.

We have arrived in town,
and we are going to see
the museum and police station.

After visiting the museum and the police station, the teacher bought us food and soft drinks.

It is time to go back home. We get into the taxi and are very excited because we saw everything we did not know.
