Mokgatla is a boy who lived in Montshioa village. He attended school at Ipeleng Primary School. He is special amongst other children.

Mokgatlha grew up with hearing and speech impairments.

He was bullied by his fellow learners, parents and friends because he was different from them.

Mokgatla never played
with other children.
He could not take part in class. He only made sounds.

He was called names,
bullied and laughed at.

The teachers realised his problem, and they looked for a special school for him.

After the incident,
the community learnt
that a person must be helped and loved
when he is different.

Mokgatla went to school and studied further to become a teacher.

He is now a teacher at Itireleng special school, where sign language is used.

The contents of this booklet can be copied, translated or adapted as long as the relevant sources have been acknowledged properly.
