It is the first day of the school holidays. Siphso and his mom are preparing for their trip to KwaZulu-Natal to see Siphso's father.

They woke up very early in the morning to catch a taxi to KwaZulu-Natal. Their journey was very long. Siphso was tired.

They arrived when the sun was about to set. Siphso was very happy to see the huge buildings and roads.

When they arrived home, Siphiso saw children playing. He wanted to play with them but didn't know how to speak Isizulu. Isizulu is the language that most people in KwaZulu-Natal speak.

His mother asked him why he was crying. He told her what is wrong.

His mother decided to talk to the other children. They all made a plan to teach Siphiso the language.

The following day the children came to Siphos house and taught him to speak Isizulu. He taught them Setswana. They played together the whole school holiday. Siphos was very happy and promised them that he would come back.

Sipho is back home in the village. He told all his friends what had happened. He taught them the Isizulu words he learnt from the trip.
