Different types of water animals, such as fish and sharks, live under the sea.

The shark was a greedy animal who always wanted to eat the fish but could not because the fish would always flee.

During the day, while the fish were relaxing, the shark appeared, and the fish fled.

The fish gathered to make a plan so that
when sharks
came, they would hide.

The fish hid under the
rocks when they saw
the angry shark coming.

Because they were afraid, the fish were so quiet that there was no sound of water moving.

When the shark saw
that the fish did not appear, it
gave up and left.
