Ms Karabo was baking bread in the early morning, and the bread
smelled so good.

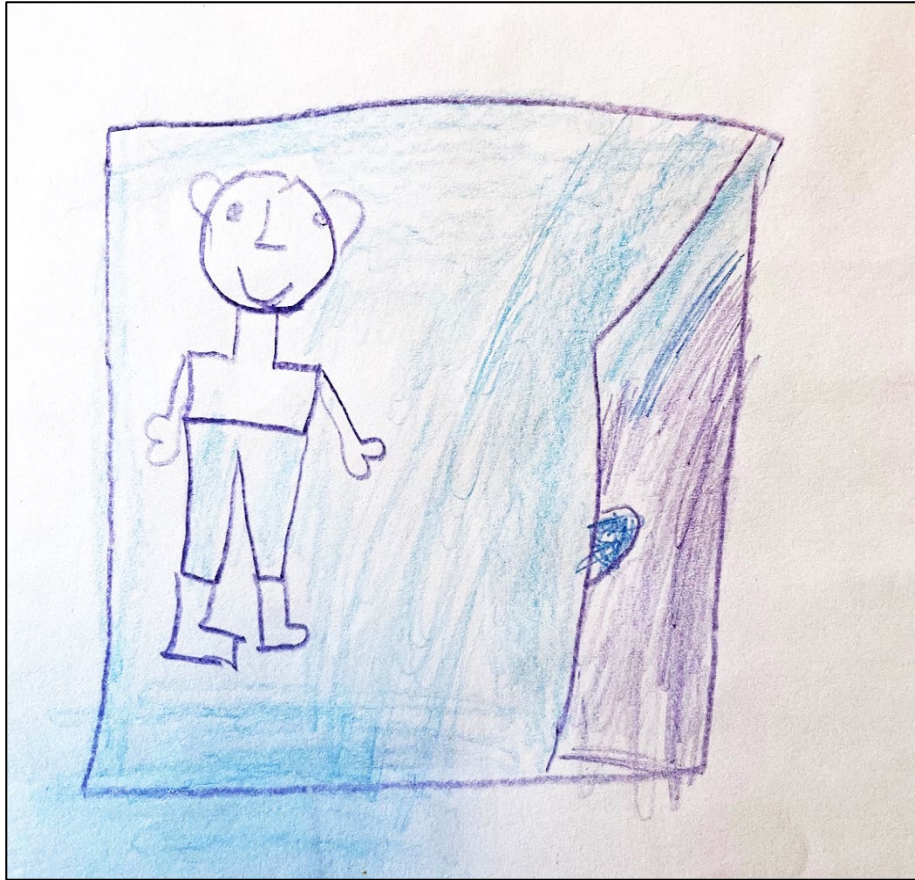

2

She left the bread at the window to cool down.

She took her phone and called Mr Letsapa to come and eat lunch with her.

7

Mr Letsapa went to Ms Karabo's place to eat lunch. He knocked at the door, but there was no response. He shouted Ms Karabo's name, and she said, "I am still preparing myself, take a seat - I am coming."

8

9

He took a seat, and after some time, he was hungry and started smelling the delicious smell of the freshly baked bread, but he decided to ignore it.

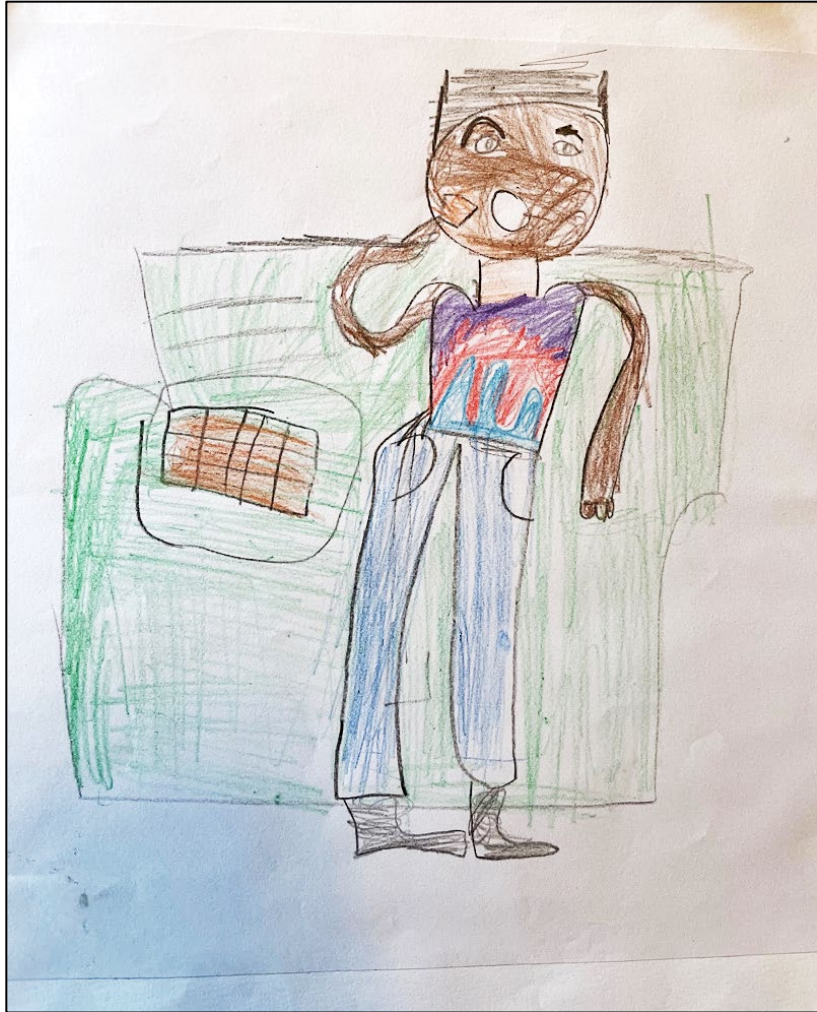

11

After a while, he started calling Ms Karabo again. Ms Karabo was looking at herself in the mirror to make sure she really looked good.

12

Mr Letsapa felt that Ms Karabo was wasting his time, so he ate all of the freshly baked bread.

Ms Karabo finally came out of her room, she looked by the window, and there was no bread. Mr Letsapa had eaten all of it.

She screamed loudly, saying, "Oh, Mr Letsapa you have messed up my day". She was very angry with Mr Letsapa.

Mr Letsapa asked for forgiveness and explained to her that he had been waiting for her for about an hour and he got too hungry and ate the bread. He then told her that he would go to buy food for them, and they will sit down and eat.

Ms Karabo was happy, and they went to the store together to buy food.
