It is an important day for the children.
Learners of Mokaila Primary school celebrated Child Protection day.
Social workers, nurses and parents were participants on that day.
The learners sang and participated in traditional dances.
Some learners were not looking good. They were not clean.
Social workers told the learners that they have the right to be taken care of and that their responsibility is to take care of themselves.
Nurses told the learners that they have the right to go to the clinic when they are sick and that their responsibility is to take their medicine.
At the end of the celebration of Child Protection day, the children knew their rights and responsibilities.
