A respectful boy
Acknowledgements

The following partners have played a valuable role in the co-creation of this storybook:

The North West Province Department of Education, Ngaka Modiri Molema District, South Africa.
The Department of Basic Education, Directorate: Rural Education, South Africa.
London South Bank University, United Kingdom.
The Economic & Social Research Council (ESRC) (ES/T005149/1), United Kingdom (funder).

School: Pudulogo Primary School
Principal: Maite Rosina Rasekgokge
Teacher: B.B Molamu
CRC: T.P Mmusi
Fieldworker: Modiegi Moleoloatladi

Illustrators:
Cover: Omphile Bogatsu
Page 1: Tumelo Mmusi
Page 2: Kefentse Mmusi
Page 3: Omosa Seleke
Page 4: Ontwetse Molatane
Page 5: Kabelo Tsaoka
Page 6: Reotshhepile Mmetseng
Page 7: Otshepeng Kunene
Page 8: Matshidiso Sehunaro
Page 9: Tau Palesa
Page 10: Phomolo Makoloke

Font within booklet: Grade 1 font by Edu-Aid

Websites and links were correct at the time of publication.
For further information about the project, please visit
http://www.ucl.ac.uk/ioe/enabling-schools
There was a boy named Onthatile who lived in Lefika village.
“I love people, and I like to teach my friends that respect comes first,” said Onthatile.
“Let us respect our culture and know ourselves,” said Othatile.
“I love people, especially those older than me. I learn a lot from them.”
Othatile surprised people at the Rights Day celebration because he was not talkative.
“We have learned a lot from Onthatile,” said his friend, Bonolo.
“He encouraged us to read books about the rights and responsibilities of children.”
Onthatile said that he did not know much about rights and responsibilities.
Onthatile asked the teacher to help him because he did not know some of the rights and responsibilities. He was very happy with the help he received.
I am very happy. I would like to thank my teacher very much. Goodbye.
A respectful boy

Authors:

Pudulogo Primary School, Gr 3A, 2022, North-West Province, South Africa