Travelling with my family is fun. We are always happy when we are together, going to the town.
Modiegi asked Tshiamo, “What are you going to buy in town?” Tshiamo said, “I am going to buy shoes”. Modiegi asked, “How much are they?” “Two hundred Rand”, he said. “They are expensive, I don’t have money for them.”
Neo goes to the clothing store. She buys a winter dress. She looks at the prices of clothes and says, "Wow, these clothes are expensive!."
Modiegi entered a furniture shop to look for furniture for her house. She looked at the prices of the tables and chairs, "Wow! They are expensive, but I need them."
Modiegi entered the food market. She looked around the shop, looking at the food prices. She said the products were expensive and she could not afford them, but needed them at home.
At the bicycle shop, Sipho looked at the bicycle wheels and the prices. He said, “Wow, they are expensive. I don’t have the money to buy them”.
The family entered the furniture store.
They sat in the restaurant eating. They were very happy but missing their dog.
They went to the rank and met a taxi driver. They asked him for help, because their transport money was not enough.
The taxi driver helped them with transport. They returned home happy and safe.
