My home is built in the small village of Matile. I have a big family.
I live with my mother, grandmother, two uncles, and my cousin.
We show love by taking care of each other, respecting, loving, and treating each other well.
My family loves to spend cultural celebrations and other holidays together. We are happy when eating traditional food.
One day my family and I took a trip. We visited Dinokana to attend the wedding ceremony of one of our cousins.
When we returned we found the roof of our home blown away by strong winds.
This made us very sad. My grandmother and mother could not stop crying. People from our community came to comfort us.
Then they helped us to gather roofing material. They helped us to put a roof on our house again.
Seeing our home standing again with a roof, my mother and grandmother became happier. My mother hugged the people from the community to show love and happiness.
