Let’s help each other
Acknowledgements

The following partners have played a valuable role in the co-creation of this storybook:

- The North West Province Department of Education, Ngaka Modiri Molema District, South Africa.
- The Department of Basic Education, Directorate: Rural Education, South Africa.
- London South Bank University, United Kingdom.
- The Economic & Social Research Council (ESRC) (ES/T005149/1), United Kingdom (funder).
In Makhubu village, most of the parents spent a lot of time at work.
That caused the children to wander around in the streets when they returned from school.
Seeing children wander in the streets made Ms. Dineo sad. She volunteered to help them with their homework.
Ms. Dineo went to the houses of those working parents to explain to them about her volunteer work.
The parents agreed and were happy with Ms. Dineo’s idea because it would help stop the children from wandering.
Children would go to Ms. Dineo’s house every day to do their schoolwork.
The parents were happy when they went to fetch their children from Ms. Dineo’s house.
They thanked Ms. Dineo by giving her money.
Let’s help each other

Authors:
Koi-Koi Primary School, Gr R(A), 2022, North-West Province, South Africa

http://www.ucl.ac.uk/ioe/enabling-schools