Funded by the Department for Education over the next three years, NCLE aims to:

- Transform language learning for all pupils.
- Increase uptake in languages in KS4 and KS5.
- Provide inspiring professional development from early career to languages leadership.
- Improve transition from KS2 to KS3.
- Reverse the decline in the study of German.
- Scale up support for home, heritage and community languages.

“Language skills and intercultural understanding widen opportunities for individuals, communities and society. With our consortium partners, we are delighted to be taking forward this next step in re-energising language teaching in schools across the country, for all learners, grounded in the principles of the Bauckham Review.”
