We are singing because we are special
Published by: The UCL Centre for Educational Leadership, University College London & The Centre for the Study of Resilience, University of Pretoria.

This publication can be copied, translated, or adapted when necessary steps have been taken to acknowledge all relevant sources.

Authors: Taolelo Primary School, Grade 1B, 2022:

School: Taolelo Primary School
Principal: Jack Maekwa
Teacher: Baipidi Totlhanyo
CRC: Dikeledi Ntsatshweu
Fieldworker: Lebogang Sekgalo

Illustrators:
Cover: Tlotlego Mogwasi
Page 1: Omphemetse Thutwa
Page 2: Tshoganyetsa Mosikare
Page 3: Mojalefa Kgosiemang
Page 4: Ogopolelo Moholo
Page 5: Agisanang Dintwa
Page 6: Omphemetse Sebalabala
Page 7: Keitumetse Mohshoage
Page 8: Lerato Motshoge
Page 9: OlthipilenMosiele
Page 10: Utlwanang Moteu

Font within booklet: Grade 1 font by Edu-Aid

Websites and links were correct at the time of publication.
For further information about the project, please visit http://www.ucl.ac.uk/ioe/enabling-schools

Acknowledgements

The following partners have played a valuable role in the co-creation of this storybook:

The North West Province Department of Education, Ngaka Modiri Molema District, South Africa.
The Department of Basic Education, Directorate: Rural Education, South Africa.
London South Bank University, United Kingdom.
The Economic & Social Research Council (ESRC) (ES/T005149/1), United Kingdom (funder).
We entered the singing competition in town and went by bus with our teachers.
Our bus broke down on the way to the competition.
We arrived at the singing competition venue. Other learners from different schools arrived with their buses.
Our competition started, and there were lots of visitors and judges. “We were nervous because we were not used to other people,” Dineo said.
“The teacher told us to sing while we were still waiting for the other schools to sing,” Lerato explained. However, she was afraid, although the teacher told her not to feel scared.
When it was our turn to sing, our teachers were excited when we went on stage. We started singing, and I felt relieved when we finished singing.
Our teacher told us to go outside and eat while waiting for the results.
At the time of the announcement of the results, we were scared when the judges told us how other schools did.
The judges announced our results, and we were number three.
We went back home with joy because we had won the third position. The teachers were excited because we had done well.
We are singing because we are special

Authors:

Taolelo Primary School, Gr 1B, 2022, North-West Province, South Africa