I am always happy.
My friends know that I love people and, I do not like to get angry.
When something upsets me, I read books.
After that, I feel much better.
I like to stay happy in every situation.
This is what my face looks like when I am angry.
Being angry is not good.
I know that happiness is good for me at all times.
I am very happy when I am with my friends.
My happiness comes first
