Nb MoL already has many of these powers; some competences new for MSAs

- ; Foundation available to those authorities without an elected Mayor, Foundation Strategic Authorities will have limited devolution and include non-mayoral Combined and Combined County Authorities as well as single councils that have been specially designated as a Strategic Authority.
- Mayoral available to areas with an elected Mayor, Mayoral Strategic Authorities will have greater devolution and include mayoral Combined and Combined County Authorities.
- Established Mayoral available to Mayoral Strategic Authorities who are able to satisfy additional governance requirements. Established Mayoral Strategic Authorities will have access to the broadest range of devolved powers and functions, including the ability to request further devolved powers from the government. The government will officially name those it has already announced as Established Mayoral Strategic Authorities shortly after the Bill becomes law. The White Paper sets out the criteria by which further Mayoral Strategic Authorities could become Established.
- 1. "The Bill will create a power to expand the Devolution Framework over time using secondary legislation giving more powers to devolved areas.
- 2. The Bill will create the ability for specific Strategic Authorities to pilot devolved powers before the government decides whether to add them to the Devolution Framework and make them available to all Strategic Authorities. This will make it easier to deepen devolution over time. These processes will also allow for differences in decision making and governance arrangements in exceptional circumstances (e.g. if something is to be exercised solely by the Mayor or jointly with another body.)
- 3. The Bill will empower Established Mayoral Strategic Authorities with a 'right to request' which allows them to propose further powers, funding and partnerships to expand the Devolution Framework. The government will be required to officially respond to these requests
